Step 7: Open EURUSD chat. Open the timeframe suitable for your account size as stated in beginning of this guide. Go to Expert list on the MT4 and right click on the Fxcore100EA_BUY then click on Attach to a chart and click ok.

Step 8: Open another EURUSD chat. Open same timeframe as you did on step 7 for your account size. Go to Expert list on the MT4 and right click on the

Fxcore100EA_SELL then click on Attach to a chart and click OK

Step 9. Some account sizes requires you open more than 2 charts.

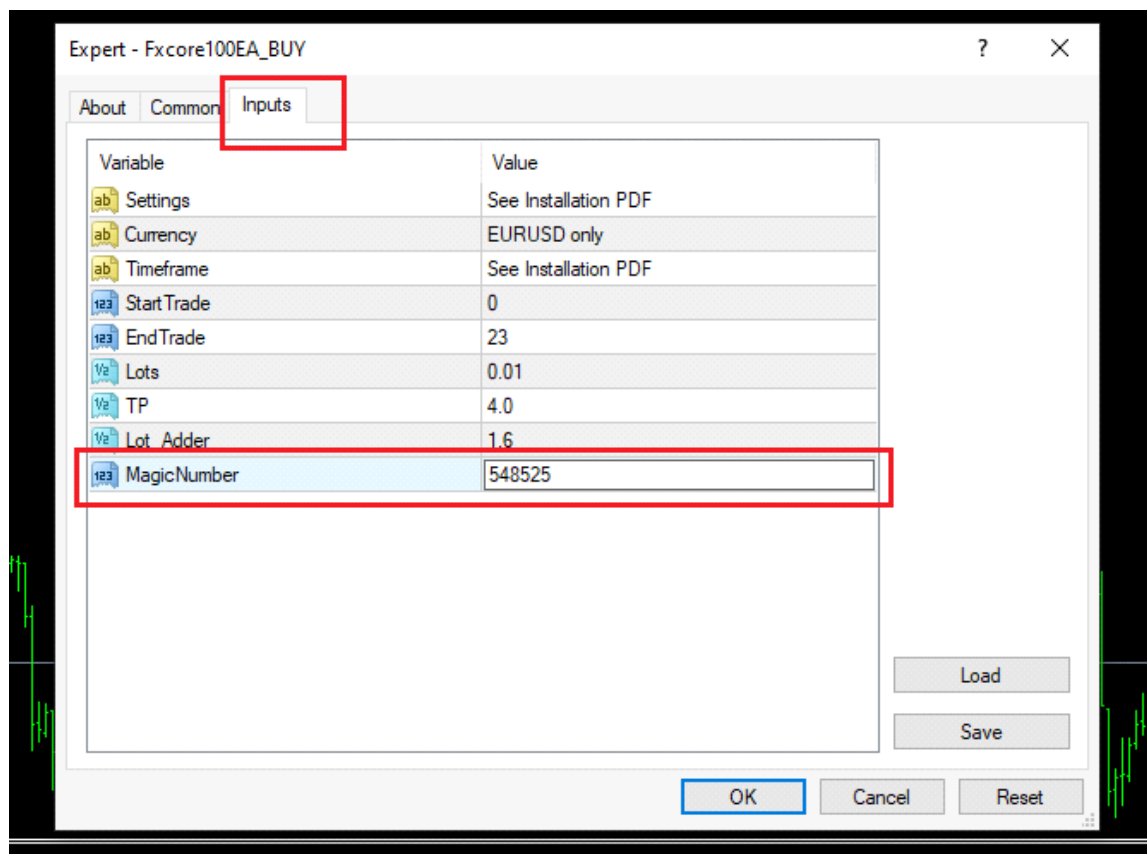

For those opening 4 charts, it means you will have BUY EA in 2 charts and SELL EA in 2 charts making it 4 charts. And for those opening 6 charts, it means you will have BUY EA in 3 charts and SELL EA in 3 charts making it 6 charts.

For those whose account size requires them to open more than 2 charts, then its very important you change the magic numbers of the BUY and SELL EA for the extra charts so that it won't be same with the magic number of first 2 charts EA.

The BUY and SELL files already came with a different magic numbers which you don't need to change if you are using only 2 charts of BUY and SELL EA.

How to locate and change the magic numbers of the EA.

When you click to attach the robot to chart as you did in Step 7 and Step 8, the window below will appear. Under input settings, you will see the Magic numbers.

Double click on the numbers to edit it. Change it to any number you wish. You can add extra two numbers to the existing ones or change all of them. You can use 111111 or 22334490 or any number you wish.

Change magic numbers of both the BUY EA and SELL EA. Just make sure that EA on other charts does not have same numbers with any EA on another chart. After that you click OK.

Kindly make sure you followed all the steps stated in this guide to avoid wrong installation. Make sure you used the suitable timeframe for your account size.

Now your fxcore100 Robot EA is installed and ready to start trading for you.
